

ENGLISHCO

Client: Englishco LLC, NYC, USA

EnglishCo, LLC is a US company running Englishco.com – a comprehensive eLearning platform for English language students, designed to offer personalized online teaching programs led live by American teachers.

#1: BUILDING THE PLATFORM

Solution: Codex Software completed numerous programming tasks ranging from PSD-to-HTML conversion and the development of custom visual means (image carousels, etc.) to the development of the sophisticated system back-end.

Outcome: the system acquired a functional and sleek UI with rich visual effects and elements (language-specific chat widgets, etc.), as well as stable and secure platform.

#2: RESPONSIVE WEB DEVELOPMENT

Solution: development of the mobile version, services ranging from design to markup and programming.

Outcome: the system works smoothly on all mobile devices

#3: FINALIZING THE SYSTEM

Solution: providing additional development services

Outcome: the system acquired all the functionality needed by language students, including language skill level assignment, tools for individual work and studying as a member of dedicated group, scheduling and taking live classes, tracking progress and many other.
